Controlled Evacuation: In most high rise buildings, the fire alarm will only ring on a few floors in the direct vicinity of the fire. Recommended evacuation instructions are to be followed by those on the floor where the alarm sounds. This controlled method is preferred instead of evacuating the entire building at once.

If Unable to Evacuate, please reach the following:

Fire control room – 101

To be spotted by the rescue team, please keep in mind the following:

A closed door can provide good protection against fire and smoke. Use available materials to seal the door and air ducts.

Initial arrangement for tentatively one week may be made in hotel or service apartment in case intimation for arranging such accommodation is not provided prior to 14 days.

Once facilities team searches out the suitable options for such accommodation, they may request employee to visit the options provided & finalize out of the options so that they are comfortable with the stay. Scenario where equal to or more than 4 employees are travelling together at deputed location for more than a year where YASH DC is not present, a full 2BHK or 3BHK flat may be arranged depending on the no. of employees travelling, subject to BUH/SSUH approval. Lead time required by facilities to make such arrangement is from 14 days to one month. Here, approval on cost of accommodation rests with BUH/SSUH.

Project Manager copying BUH/SSUH or BUH/SSUH should keep facilities team informed on the final end date of the project at least one month in advance, so that notice to PG or PGH or flat owner can be given accordingly for vacating such rented place.

In case of PG accommodation, facilities teams will credit the amount of rent payable after one day from the due date of payment to the vendor in employee's salary a/c once an employee submits the last month rent receipt or invoice from the vendor to facilities.

In case of Flat arrangement, payment will be directly done by the facilities team to the owner. However, in certain cases, facilities may advise the employee to do it on behalf of company.

- In certain scenario where travel desk advises an employee to make his / her own booking for stay in any hotel because of remote location or insufficient time for making such arrangement, employee may refer the eligibilities as defined below & also pay for such arrangement only if TD advises for the same. - For reimbursement of expenses, original bills/invoice, accommodation confirmation email from travel desk (TD)/Facilities team needs to be furnished in the annexure and to be claimed under Misc. Expenses category at Infogram selecting expenses type as "Lodging Expenses"
- The table below shows permitted rate for single occupancy & on sharing basis. Employee travelling alone should refer eligibilities for Single. When two or more employees are travelling together they may refer eligibilities for twin sharing, if applicable or as the case may be.
- In a scenario when a team composed of employees from different grades travels together for a common business purpose, the accommodation of the entire team that may be specified for a higher-grade employee travelling along would be arranged; if eligibility is moving one grade level for an employee based on BUH/SSUH approval. However; if it is enhancing two grade levels then approval from BGH/SSGH would be required for making such arrangement. This is practiced with a purpose to maintain the spirit & moral of the team.
- If an employee request to reserve room having rent higher than eligibility due to personal choice, travel desk may facilitate the same. However, in such situation an employee has to pay the cost difference as advised by TD which would be adjusted from claim reimbursement or deducted from payroll as applicable.

5.2 Sweden

- An employee is eligible to receive reimbursement in the form of mileage allowance to use a private car while travelling on business.
- Employee can also receive reimbursement for other means of travel by payment proof submission which could not be booked via the travel agency, for example, local bus or taxi.
- Employee is eligible for reimbursement of only fuel when personal vehicle or benefit car is utilized for business journey and the respective fuel amount is paid by the employee. A benefit car is essentially a car provided by the employer that an employee can also use privately.
- Maximum mileage allowances per kilometer an employer can reimburse tax-free for business journeys depends on the type of vehicle and as indicated below:

Own car	SEK 25 per mile
Company Car	SEK 12 per mile
Company Car (Electric)	SEK 9.50 per mile
Motorcycle/moped car/EPA tractor/A-tractor	SEK 12.50 per mile
Hybrid (Diesel and Electricity)	SEK 12 per mile
Moped	SEK 6 per mile
Bicycle	SEK 350 per year
Own boat	Actual cost

(Note: The above rates are subjected to change from time to time as indicated by Government)

- Employees are eligible for reimbursement for their commute between home and the place of work. These expenses are tax-free if i) the distance between home and workplace is at least 2 km, ii) the employee is traveling by public transport, and iii) the employees expenses exceed SEK 11,000 per year. If the above criteria are met, the employee's expenses which exceeds SEK 11,000 is deductible.
- For employees to be eligible for mileage allowance of travel by car, motorcycle or moped instead of reimbursement for their commute, certain criteria have to be met.
 - The distance between home and workplace must be at least 5 KMs.
 - The time saving compared to travelling by public transport must be at least 2 hours.

5.3 Poland

- Payments to cover the cost of travel on local transport are 20% of the base rate (PLN 7,6) per day if an employee is traveling within the country. The expenses are also covered in full if they are documented.
- Travel expenses are compensated depending on the type of transport and the amount of mileage in kilometers based on the vehicle's mileage if an employee is using personal transport. The rate for one kilometer is PLN 0,89 (for vehicles with engine capacity up to 900 cm³) or PLN 1,15 (for vehicles with engine capacity over 900 cm³). These expenses may not be exempt from personal income tax and social security contributions when paying expenses per kilometer at a higher rate.
- Employees are compensated for travel expenses on the day off on the transport specified to the place of permanent or temporary residence and back if the work trip lasts at least 10 days.
- Travel expenses to and from a railway station, bus station, airport or seaport are compensated at a one-time base rate at the destination abroad and any other place abroad where the employee stayed overnight if an employee is traveling abroad. - Commuter allowance amounts to 30 cents per kilometer for the first 20 kilometers of one-way travel to or from workplace, regardless of means of transportation or actual incurred expenses. The tax office will only accept deductions for the shortest possible route (regardless of means of transport) and long detours would have to be justified, for example, if it's more convenient and is a faster route (due to the shorter route having heavy traffic etc.)
- Tax office accepts a flat rate of 230 trips per year for a 5-day work week, and 280 trips for a 6-day work week. Commuter expenses cannot be deducted for days spent home sick, on vacation, or working from home – days spent working from home can instead be claimed using the home office lump sum. A maximum of 4,500 euros per year can be deducted, unless one of the following two exceptions are met:
 - If commute to work in personal or business vehicle and exceed 4,500 euros per year with the commuter allowance, the excess amount may be deducted.
 - If commute to work with public transportation and the costs exceed 4,500 euros per year, claim the actual expenses on tax return (not as a part of the commuter allowance).
 - If either of these exceptions are met, submit receipts as proof upon the tax office's request.

Employees are expected to conform to the general guidelines with respect to the infrastructure usage, access control system, cleanliness of workstations, usage of physical media, voice lines, stationery usage, etc.

- Access Control: For any movement in the office premises whether Entry / Exit employee must use the access card. Office Security will not allow anybody into the premises without Access & Photo ID card. This check is a part of security process. Employees are expected to show cooperation. This is done primarily keeping in mind:

- Prevent unauthorized access to the office premises.
 - Prevent damage or interference to business premises and information.
 - To organize and regulate better security.
 - To facilitate proper identification of the employee of the organization
 - Attendance Automation
- Clean Desk: A clean and organized workplace makes better use of the floor space. Associates can work more efficiently and stay healthier with a clean workspace. It also helps to maintain the integrity and availability of information processing & communication services.
 - Regular housekeeping activities will be performed at all workstations.
 - General housekeeping will be carried out every day and special cleaning will be done once in a week – preferably on Saturdays.
 - Any unattended print documents will be destroyed by the housekeeping staff by using shredders, after informing the FPA team.
 - General pest control services will be carried out on every weekend and special fumigation will be done once in a Quarter.
- Usage of Physical Media: No Physical media in the form of CD/Floppy/tape drive/ any other form is allowed inside the office premises by any employee. No software media in any form is allowed to go out without proper approval. The software information must be password protected. Any indent from the end user related to Hardware/software/media should be duly certified by the networking department and the usage of the same will also be certified being a custodian for the Information Technology activities.
- Office movable assets with employees: Assets like laptop, headphones, mobiles, etc. which are handed over to the employees are covered under insurance by the company. Loss of these assets due to the employee negligence will be recovered from their salary. The value of the assets will be decided by the asset verification team based on and current value of the asset.
- Usage of Voice Lines: Based on the need & recommendation of the group head, voice lines will be configured, subject to availability of the ports. Except for limited users all ports will be enabled with only incoming facility. In case of emergency circumstances, users are permitted to use the facility strictly for official purpose only. Your outgoing calls may be recorded in the system and user will be held responsible for usage / any discrepancy.
- Printouts: As we have limited the usage of paper to a minimum, it is advised that employees to take prints only when necessary.

8 General Guidelines for Visitors

- Employees inviting Visitors to office premises are requested to inform their Visitors about complying with the Company policy. A Visitors' Card shall be issued to every Visitor and entries shall be made in the prescribed register. Security personnel will check the Signature of the Visitor while going out of the premises. It is expected from the Visitor to maintain politeness in behavior while dealing with the office personnel at the front office.
- Visitors on personal visits inside the office premises is restricted. However, in case of emergencies, where a visitor & the employee has to meet, such meeting will be allowed only up to the security lobby/ front office, but not to the work areas.
- Visitors, even if it is on official work will be allowed only into the designated areas like cabins/conference rooms, discussions rooms on all working days and are strictly prohibited to enter into to the secured areas.

9 Fire Fighting and Evacuation

- All employees are anticipated to comply with the safety & preventive measures against disasters. In a potential emergency, everyone should do what is indicated by the circumstances (e.g., pull the fire alarm, warn nearby people who may be in danger, see for their own safety) and then immediately call authority.
- In case of Fire:
 - Leave the area of fire and close doors.
 - Activate wall mounted fire alarm.
 - Attempt to extinguish fire only if you can do it safely.
 - Report about fire to FPA / ERT Team.
- When Fire Alarm Sounds:
 - Calmly evacuate the building, it is advised not to use the elevator.
 - Use an alternate exit, if you encounter smoke or fire.
 - Report anyone suspected of remaining in the building.
 - Move away from building by at least 30 meters, leaving clear access for emergency services.
 - Do not re-enter the building until authorized by Fire Department or Police.
- Controlled Evacuation: In most high-rise buildings, the fire alarm will only ring on a few floors in the direct vicinity of the fire. Recommended evacuation instructions are to be followed by those on the floor where the alarm sounds. This controlled method is preferred instead of evacuating the entire building at once.
- If Unable to Evacuate, please reach Fire control or Police
- To be spotted by the rescue team, please keep in mind the following:

- A closed door can provide good protection against fire and smoke. Use available materials to seal the door and air ducts.
- If smoke enters the room, stay low as heat and gases tend to rise.
- Signal your position at a window.

11 UPS Guidelines

Uninterrupted power supplies come in various sizes, types, and capacities, to serve your power backup requirements. UPS ensure reliable and safe operation only if adhere to certain operational rules and safety precautions while using them.

Selecting UPS

When it comes to selecting an uninterruptible power (UPS) system, there are several factors to consider. Beyond determining the desired topology and whether it requires a single-phase or three-phase unit, it is essential to properly calculate the size of the UPS needed. To do so, take into account the intended total load (the combined voltage and amperage of all connected devices), the capacity (the unit's maximum power output), and the amount of backup time desired from the UPS batteries (how long the UPS can support the equipment during a power outage).

Factors to Consider When Calculating UPS Load and Runtime

UPS systems are typically rated in either kilowatts (kW), volts amps (VA) or kilo-volt-amperes (kVA). While VA or kVA power rating represents the power limitation accepted by the UPS, the Watts rating is the power output of the UPS and determines the unit's 'real power.'

In a direct current (DC) circuit, watts = volts x amps (in other words, 1 kW = 1 kVA). However, when the uninterrupted power supply system uses AC (alternating current) — as most data centers and other buildings do, it reduces the available power (watts) in apparent power (volt-amperes). The ratio of these two numbers is called the power factor. The power factor of an AC power system is defined as the ratio of the real power absorbed by the load to the apparent power flowing in the circuit and is calculated as: watts = volts x amps x power factor. Power factors differ depending on the UPS. For example, a 100 kVA UPS system with a power factor of 0.8 can only support 80 kW of real power.

Power Load

The UPS load is the combined amount of power that attached electrical devices will consume. To calculate the load, add the total watts of each piece of equipment that will be connected to the UPS. For example, if UPS to support a 120W PC, a 30W VPN router, a 960W server, a 280W network switch and a 480W storage device, the total load required is 1870 W.

Battery Capacity

While the load represents the total equipment the UPS will be tasked with protecting, determine how much time that load to stay up and running during a power outage. This will establish the UPS runtime. Every UPS has an internal battery that will supply a limited amount of power if the utility supply isn't available. However, many UPS models can incorporate additional battery modules to increase runtime by minutes or hours. The battery capacity is measured in AH or Amp-hrs.

Calculating UPS Load and Run Time

Many UPS manufacturers offer online UPS calculators and sizing tools that make it easier to match a backup power supply to your needs. If no calculations are available, then calculate the load by gathering measurements and completing a series of simple steps. It is important to note that while adding more batteries to a UPS can increase the battery runtime to support the load, it does not increase the capacity of the UPS. First ensure that the UPS is adequately sized for your load, and then add batteries to accommodate your runtime needs.

Size the UPS

- List all the equipment and devices you want the UPS to protect.
- List the amps and volts for each device. These ratings can typically be found on the label on the back of the equipment.
- Multiply amps by volts to determine VoltAmps (VA). Some devices may list their power requirements in watts. To convert watts to VA, divide the watts by power factor.
- Multiply the VA by the number of pieces of equipment to get the VA subtotals.
- Add the VA subtotals together to get the total power requirement.
- Multiply the total by 1.2 to get the grand total. This step accounts for future expansion.
- When choosing a UPS, be sure that the VA requirement of supported equipment does not exceed the VA rating of the UPS.

Determine the backup time

- $\text{Multiply the battery rating (in Ah)} \times \text{the battery rating (in V)} \times \text{the number of batteries} \times \text{the battery efficiency.}$
- Then divide that number by the load in Watts (W).

- While runtime may seem like a simple thing to quantify, understanding the facts behind the numbers helps determine the optimal battery backup solution for particular business or application.

Consider the following solution scenarios:

- UPS with 10-15 minutes of runtime and no generator — This solution allows time to safely shut down connected equipment and save work-in-progress.
- UPS with 10-15 minutes of runtime and a generator — This solution will keep connected systems up and running until the generator powers on.
- UPS with two or more hours of battery runtime — In some cases, generators may not be practical and organizations that wish to remain up and running during an extended outage must rely solely on UPS batteries.

UPS installation requirements

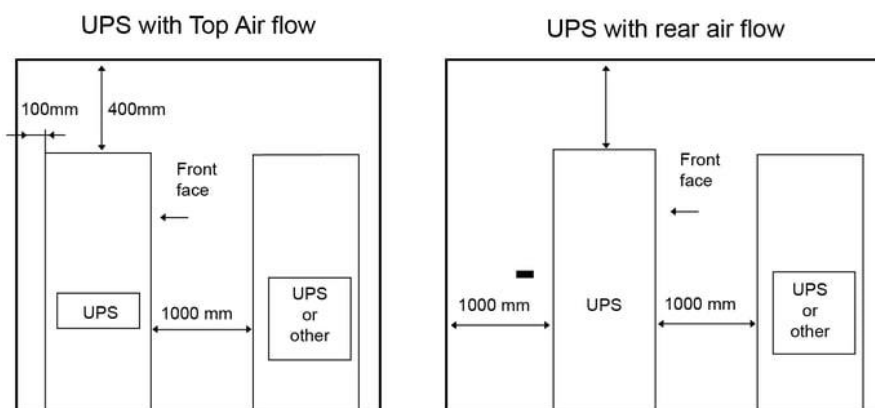

Location

The UPS installation location should be chosen with care. The type and amount of site preparation required will vary according to the specific location and its relative location to the connected load. Preferably the UPS has to be installed close to the loads. If the distance between the load and the UPS is higher, we must consider the voltage drop based on the distance of the cable and suitable action like over sizing the cable needs to be considered.

Floor space requirements

It is important that adequate floor space has to be provided for the UPS. Check the dimensional information on the appropriate data sheets for the floor space requirements. The UPS equipment can be mounted with the back against a wall if rear access is not specifically required; however, if side and rear access can be maintained, it may be helpful should service become necessary. However, the requirement of rear clearance will be based on the construction of UPS. If the UPS is of modular construction, then a rear clearance is mandatory.

A clear area in front of the unit of at least 1meter should be maintained for service personnel.

Clearance Required	Front Suction, Top Throw	Front Suction, Rear Throw
Front Clearance	1000mm	1000mm
Rear Clearance	200mm	1000mm
Side Clearance	200mm	400mm
Top Clearance	1000mm	400mm

Care should be taken to assure that the floor loading capacity is sufficient to support the UPS and batteries. Floor loading of UPS will vary based on the capacity and the type of the UPS.

Most of the UPSs are designed for a maximum operating temperature of 40°C. The losses of the UPS is dissipated as heat and the UPS room should have the ventilation arrangement to remove the heat to maintain the ambient temperature below 40°C. The ventilation can be in the form of cross ventilation of hot & cold air (using air exchangers-inlet & exhaust fans with suitable filters) or with air conditioner.

It is also possible to install a duct either on the top side or the rear side of the UPS to suck out the heat produced by the UPS.

In order to provide for adequate ventilation, the UPS should be installed in a room, which has at least 1000mm of clearance on the top side or the rear side of the UPS based on the ventilation type. This area of UPS should be cleared of any obstruction, which would impede air flow. Since cooling air enters through a grill at the bottom front/front of the equipment, this area must also be kept clear of any obstructions.

UPS systems are designed to operate at full load in an ambient temperature of 0-40°C (32-104°F); 0-95% relative humidity; to altitudes of 1000m above mean sea level. However, as with all electronic equipment, operating over a prolonged period of time at elevated temperatures may be detrimental to the extended life of the equipment. In all probability, we would expect the normal temperature range to be between 25-35°C. Some installations may require that equipment be designed to operate at 50°C (122°F) for periods of time when normal cooling or ventilation has failed. High temperatures do have a negative effect on life of virtually all electronic components. For maximum service life, plan the equipment room so that normal operating temperatures are between 25-35°C. The UPS room should be relatively free of dust and dirt and other airborne contaminants as heavy layers of dust will reduce the cooling efficiency of the electronic components. It is important that the room low temperature control be adjusted to maintain the room temperature above the dew point in order to prevent condensation of moisture on the UPS. Also in areas of high humidity, UPS designed to operate under such conditions must be chosen or an adequate dehumidifier or precision air conditioner must be deployed to maintain humidity.

Requirement of air conditioner for UPS

UPS system produces heat, which must be removed to prevent the UPS temperature from rising to an unacceptable level. Selection of air conditioner for UPS room requires an understanding of the amount of heat produced by the UPS. Heat is energy and is commonly expressed in Joules, BTU, tons, or calories. common measures of heat output rate for equipment are BTU per hour, Tons per day, and Joules per second (Joules per second is equal to Watts)

Power (KW)	Constant Value	Remarks
1KW	3412.14 BTU/Hr	To convert the heat loss in KW to BTU/Hr, we need to multiply KW with BTU/Hr Constant Value
1KW	3.567 Tonnage	To convert the heat loss in KW to tonnage of AC, we need to divide the KW by constant Value
1BTU/Hr	8.33333X 10 ⁻⁵ RT	RT - Refrigeration tonnage

The selection of UPS for air conditioner has to be calculated based on

- Area of the room
- Number of persons who may utilize the room
- Sources of heat generation
- Insulation of the room

Sizing of air conditioner

Step 1:

Multiply the length of UPS room by its width, which will give the total area of the room. Based on the below table, the basic capacity in BTU/Hr required for the UPS room can be calculated.

Total Floor Area in sq m	Basic Cooling Capacity in BTU/Hr
9 - 15	5000
15 - 23	6000
23 - 28	6500
28 - 33	7250
33 - 38	8000
38 - 41	8750
41 - 46	9650
46 - 51	10500
51 - 65	12500
65 - 93	15000
93 - 111	17700
111 - 149	19000 - 24000
149 - 167	24000 - 27000
167 - 260	27000 - 33000

Step 2: Arrive at the no of person who will work in the UPS room

Generally the UPS room is unmanned apart from the time when the technician visits to service the UPS or during the visit of maintenance engineer. It is ideal to consider 600 BTU/Hr per person to arrive at the air conditioner capacity of the UPS room.

Step 3: Heat Loss of UPS

To arrive at the capacity of the air conditioner required for UPS, calculate the heat loss of UPS in KW using the formula

Heat Loss of UPS = Input Power in KW – Output Power in KW

$$\frac{\text{Output Power in KW}}{\text{Efficiency of UPS}} - \text{Output power in KW}$$

Heat Loss of UPS = heat loss of UPS in KW x 3412.14 BTU/Hr (in BTU/Hr)

As a thumb rule, 7% of the UPS capacity can be considered as heat loss which gives the thumb rule formula of

Heat Loss in BTU/Hr = 7% x Capacity of UPS in KW X 3412.14 BTU/hr

Step 4: Insulation Loss

As a thumb rule, a 10% of insulation loss can be considered in the calculation.

Sample Calculation – Capacity of Air Conditioner required for UPS Room

UPS capacity	200KVA
Area of UPS Room	9 sq m(3X3X3,WXDXH in m)
Heat loss of UPS	7%
Heat Loss of Other Loads	1%
No of Person in UPS Room	1
Insulation Loss	10%

Description	Cooling Capacity in BTU/Hr	Remarks
Area of battery room	5,000 BTU/Hr	From Step 1
Heat loss of battery	345 BTU/Hr	1mA/AHXNo of Cells X Voltage
Heat Loss of other loads	NA
No of persons in battery room	600 BTU / Hr	Assumption of 1 Person
Insulation loss	5,500 BTU/Hr	Assumption of 10%
Total	11,445 BTU / Hr
Air conditioner required in Tr	0.95 Tr	1 BTU/hr = 8.33333×10^{-5} RT
Air conditioner required in Tr	1 Tr

Sample Calculation – Air Exchanges Required for Forced Ventilation of UPS Room

In the event, UPS manufacturers is not specifying the need of an air conditioner, adequate care must be taken to install inlet fans to bring in fresh air from outside the UPS room and exhaust fans to exhaust the hot air from the UPS room. The fans must have the required CFM to ensure the required air changes and should have filters to limit the dust in the UPS room.

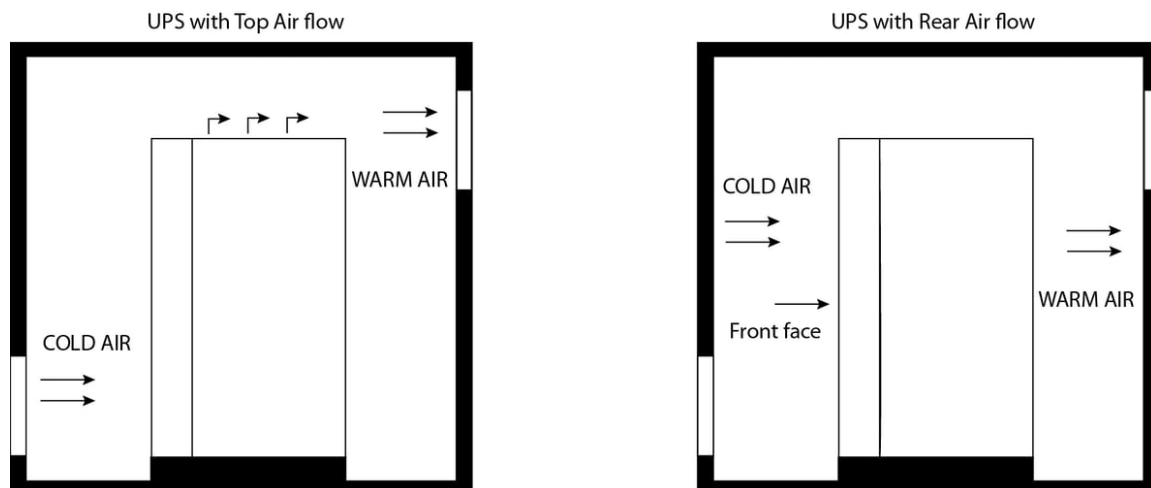

$$\text{CFM} = \frac{\text{Area of Room in Cubic ft} \times \text{No of Air exchanges /hr}}{60}$$

From the above formula, derive at the No of Air exchanges required to arrive at the capacity of fans required to remove the heat from the UPS room and to maintain a room temperature of less than 40°C. The number of air exchanges can be calculated from the below formula,

$$\text{ds} = \text{CFM} \times 60$$

CFM calculated was 2400 and room size was 27m³ (952.7ft³)(from previous example)

The Fan arrangement & fan CFM must ensure 15 air exchange/hr in the room

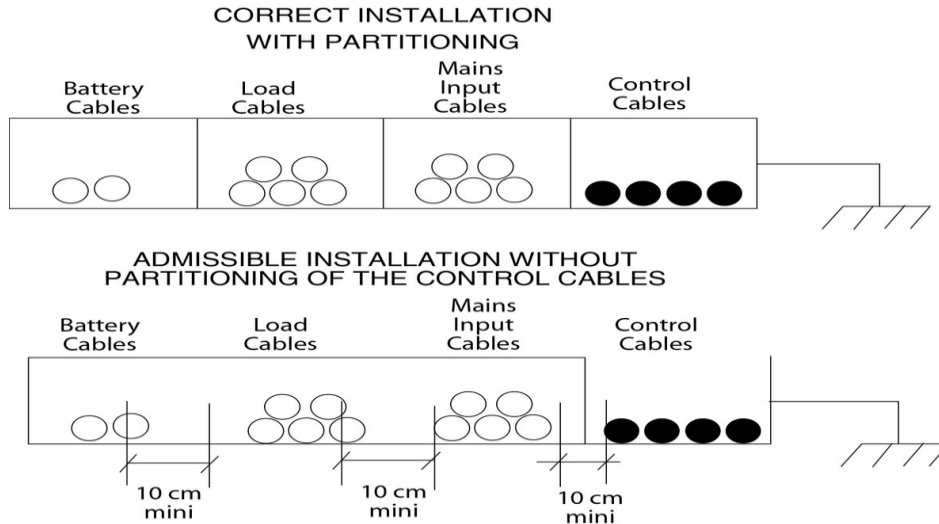

Cross Ventilation of UPS Room

Cable Sizing & Installation

It is imperative to select and specify the correct type and size of cabling in UPS installations. Failure to do so can result in overheating, fire risk and premature failure. It is also important to select the best method of installation alongside the most optimum routing. The same cable sizes should be installed for input and output and the selected cable should provide continuous full thermal current rating. A site survey will reveal the length of cable required and what voltage drop should be catered within the project specification and what size lugs are required.

General guidelines for cable routing & laying

Divide the power cables in groups like input cable, output cable and battery cable and bunch them together. A min of 10 cm clearance has to be provided between the cable groups

Typical Cable laying scheme

The control cables like UPS paralleling cable, communication cables like BMS, SNMP, battery monitoring, EPO needs to be grouped together separately and has to be laid separately to avoid any EMI/EMC issues. The control cables should be in a separate cable tray.

The cable tray for all cables has to be earthed.

Electrical protection

Electrical protection with breakers or SFU (Switch Fuse Units) are important in two aspects:

- To protect the other loads connected to the same distribution bus and to isolate the fault.
- To protect the cables connected between the source and the loads.

It is recommended to have breakers or SFU (Switch Fuse Units with semiconductor fuses) at the input of the UPS. Protection in form of MCCB/MCB/fuses can be used in the downstream circuit while an isolator can be used at the output of UPS.

It is also recommended to have a split mains, a dedicated input breaker for input of the rectifier and a dedicated input for the bypass mains. This could avoid single point of failure.

Earthing

Earthing is very important for UPS as the fault current tends to flow through the earth back to mains to activate the protection system used in the circuit.

In case of multiple UPS or parallel UPS configuration, all the UPS has to be connected together to the same earthing system.

Requirements for battery installation

Battery is the most unreliable component in the UPS and has the risk of fire and explosion if they are not managed properly.

The most common battery used in UPS system is SMF VRLA battery. These batteries produce Hydrogen gas during the charging process and it combines with the oxygen inside the battery to form water. This process is called recombination. But however, under certain condition like overcharging of battery, the Hydrogen gas escapes from the container through the safety vents. If the Hydrogen content is more than 4%, then the atmosphere becomes a combustible environment.

This has paved way for special considerations of battery installation and is regulated as per IEEE – 1187 recommended practice for installation of valve regulated Lead-acid batteries same as equivalent practice for wet cells.

Battery room consideration

Ideal recommendation is to have a separate room for installation of battery with the consideration of the following points:

- Flame retardant doors
- The electrical installation in battery rooms should be limited to:
 - Lighting
 - Ventilation
- Smoke detectors may be installed in battery rooms along with hydrogen detectors. Fan operation may be interlocked with hydrogen detector actuation and the same can also be linked with the EPO of UPS system, so that in the event of hydrogen gas accumulation, the UPS can be switched off and the charging process can be stopped.
- The room ceiling should be flat to ensure that pockets of trapped Hydrogen gas do not occur, particularly at the ceiling, to prevent the accumulation of an explosive mixture,

- Light fittings should be fixed to the wall or suspended at more than 50 cm from the ceiling, but not vertically above the batteries or charging units.
- Light fittings as well as any other equipment should be of closed type to prevent accumulation of gas.

Battery rack consideration

Ideally battery is recommended to be installed in a open rack rather than a closed cabinet as the closed cabinet will have disadvantages like:

Access for installation

- Difficult to make and inspect connections and check torque
- Access for maintenance.
- Difficult to access terminals to take periodic readings.
- Visual inspection is impossible.
- Replacing defective battery blocks can be extremely difficult.

Heat

- Heat generated by nearby equipment.
- Heat build-up because of restricted air flow
- Heat generated within the battery because of charging current Personnel safety

12 Server Room Guidelines

Servers house data, files, and other information to make it easily accessible from any connected workstation. If the server room gets too hot or too humid, it can cause servers to overheat and fail. Staying on top of temperatures is easy with the right monitoring setup and configuration.

Server Room Temperature

Maintain the temperature range between 65 and 75 degrees Fahrenheit (18 to 24 degrees Celsius). To maintain this temperature range, separate HVAC unit can be installed to cool the server room.

Server Room Humidity

The ideal humidity level is between 40 and 50%. As humidity levels rise, the amount of water vapor in the air increases. This can cause condensation to occur on servers.

Humidity can be controlled by installing dehumidifiers monitored through humidity sensors, keeping the server room clean and inspecting server room regularly.

Regular

Official

Diplomatic

Other

Passport Number:

Your current passport number. If you previously had a passport that expired or was lost, don't write numbers from those passports.

This must be the same passport you will be using when traveling to the U.S. It should be a valid, unexpired passport or other valid, unexpired documentation that is sufficient to establish your identity and nationality.

Passport Book Number:

The Passport Book Number is commonly called the inventory control number. You may or may not have a Passport Book Number on your passport. The location of the Passport Book Number on your passport may vary depending on the country that issued your passport. Please contact your passport issuing authority if you are unable to determine whether or not your passport contains a Passport Book Number.

If it is not applicable to you, click 'DOES NOT APPLY'.

India: For citizens of India, click 'DOES NOT APPLY'.

Where was the Passport Issued?

City: City where passport was issued. Write current official name of the city. e.g., write "Mumbai" instead of "Bombay".

If your passport was issued outside India, such as in USA or even some third country, write that city, state/province and country here.

Country: Select the Country from where the passport was issued.

Issuance Date:

Date when passport was issued.

Expiration Date:

Date when passport is expiring.

In most cases, your passport must have at least six months of validity beyond the date of your visa application and/or your arrival in the U.S.

Answer 'Yes' or 'No' accordingly.

If yes, provide the following information:

Again answer this truthfully and to the best of your knowledge.

Be specific how long you intend to stay in the U.S. Examples, '6 months', '4 months', '2 weeks' etc. Don't write your duration based on vague thinking like 'as much as you let me', 'as long as possible', 'as long as my daughter-in-law needs babysitter', 'don't know', 'haven't decided' etc. Whatever time duration you specify, for B1/B2 visa, don't write more than 6 months, and be prepared to answer what you will be doing during that much time in the U.S. An applicant should mention the duration of the planned trip; not the duration of the visa he is hoping for.

DS-160 Form Guide: Previous U.S. Travel Information

Have you ever been in the U.S.?

If you answer 'Yes', you will need to provide the following information:

Date of Arrival (Format: DD-MMM-YYYY) and Length of Stay for each visit for last five U.S. visits. If you are unsure about when you visited the U.S., please provide a best estimate.

The consulate will look to see whether you left on time. And if you did leave on time, chances of you getting a visa this time is higher, as it shows that you honored the requirement to return home during your last visit. But if you overstayed during your last visit to the U.S., you may have difficulty getting a visa this time. Also, if the consulate finds out that you have been stringing together visas to spend as much time as possible in the U.S., they may doubt your true intention and may deny your visa. The consulate may also do the check to see if you have violated any other visa terms during your past visit(s).

Do your did you ever hold a U.S. driver's license? Yes or No.

If 'Yes', please provide the driver's license number or check 'Do Not Know'.

If you held more than one U.S. driver's license (one a time, of course), click on 'Add Another' and enter the above set of information for each of them.

Have you ever been issued a U.S. Visa?

If you have ever been issued a U.S. visa before (even if it is different type than you are currently applying), write details here accordingly.

Most of the nonimmigrant visas would not create problems for returning to the U.S. unless you had overstayed the visa expiration date and stayed in the U.S. illegally. Exception: if you were in the U.S. on J1 (exchange visitor) visa and haven't yet completed the 2-year "home country" residency requirement. Please consult an attorney if this applies to you.

If you answer 'Yes', you will have to provide the following additional information:

Date Last Visa Was Issued

In Format: DD-MMM-YYYY

Visa Number

Click 'Do Not Know', if appropriate.

This number is the red color number towards lower right side of the visa stamp. For lost or stolen visas, check 'Do Not Know'.

Mexico: If you have a laser visa, the visa number is on the right side of the first row of number. The visa number will start with the initials for the post that issued your visa. e.g., MER for Merida.

Are you applying for the same type of visa?

Are you applying in the same country where the visa above was issued and is this country your principal country of residence?

Have you been ten-printed?

Ten-printed means that you have provided fingerprints for all your fingers, as opposed to having provided only two fingerprints.

Has your U.S. Visa ever been lost or stolen?

If you answer 'Yes', you will have to provide the year in which it was lost or stolen.

Has your U.S. Visa ever been cancelled or revoked?

If you answer 'Yes', please provide an explanation.

Have You Ever Been Refused a U.S. Visa, been refused admission to the United States, or withdrawn your application for admission at the point of entry?

If you have ever been refused a U.S. visa, write the details about it here. You have to answer 'Yes', even if some other type of U.S. visa was denied in the past.

You must tell the truth here (and of course everywhere in this entire process). Consular checks your file and records anyway. They can also check whether you lied earlier or used fraud documents to apply for a visa before, or whether you violated visa terms before. If any of that is true, it would be tough for you to get a visa.

Even if your visa is refused under Section 221(g) because of a missing document, and now you can present the document, it is nonetheless a refusal and, therefore, you must respond "Yes" to this question and provide all the subsequent details requested.

Many people have been denied a tourist visa or student visa in the past. That is not a problem if you apply for an H1 visa or Fiance (K1) visa etc. later. However, if you were refused because of some fraud, this application may be denied as well.

The page is divided into a left sidebar with navigation buttons (Getting Started, Personal, Address and Phone, Passport, Travel, Travel Companions, Previous U.S. Travel, U.S. Contact, Family, Security and Background) and a main content area. The main content area has a tabbed interface with "COMPLETE", "PHOTO", "REVIEW", and "SIGN". The "COMPLETE" tab is active, showing the "U.S. Point of Contact Information" form. The form has two main sections: "Contact Person or Organization in the United States" and "Help: Contact". The "Contact Person" section has fields for "Surnames", "Given Names", and "Organization Name", each with a "Do Not Know" checkbox. The "Relationship to You" field is a dropdown menu with "SELECT ONE" selected. The "Help: Contact" section provides instructions on who can be the U.S. Point of Contact.

DS-160 Form Guide: Family Information: Relatives

Answer the questions about your relatives in the U.S. truthfully. Choose YES or NO and indicate that person's status in the U.S. (i.e., U.S. legal permanent resident, U.S. citizen, visiting, studying, working, etc.).

These are all the close relatives that could potentially file an immigrant visa petition for you for your permanent residence in the U.S., if they themselves are either the U.S. citizens or green card holders. If you have any such relatives in the U.S., the consular officer will scrutinize your application to see whether you are trying to immigrate to the U.S. through any of them. But having such relatives doesn't mean that you will be denied a tourist visa. In fact, it is a good reason to go to the U.S. to meet such close relatives. Just be prepared to show the documents and other evidence that you will definitely return after a temporary stay in the U.S.

Do not lie regarding this. Do not hide the presence of family members. Consular officers are quite experts in catching such people who lie and if you are caught, your visa will be immediately rejected and you will be in much bigger trouble. In fact, you may disqualify on future applications for visas or other the U.S. immigration benefits. It becomes grounds for inadmissibility.

If you have immediate relatives who are U.S. citizens but currently staying abroad, such as in India on a PIO or OCI card, you have to still mention them. That is because, technically, they could still file for your immigration petition.

If the relative is in an Adjustment of Status (AOS, probably using EAD), the legal status selected should be NONIMMIGRANT.

In rare cases, a waiver may be available and you should talk to a competent immigration lawyer to discuss your case with you to see whether any such waiver may be possible.

1.0 PURPOSE

This guideline document elaborates the process that needs to be followed while reporting expenses which are to be 'billable to client', to avoid any hassles in claim process as well as avoid financial liability in the hands of the employee.

2.0 SCOPE

Applicable to all employees on rolls of YASH Technologies Pvt. Ltd. (YASH / YTPL).

3.0 OWNERSHIP/IMPLEMENTATION

The ownership & implementation of this guideline lies with Human Resources (HR) Department. It will be effective from March 01, 2019 & will continue to be in force unless superseded by a revised policy. The HR Department reserves the right to amend, abrogate & reinstate the entire policy or any part of it as & when it deems fit.

4.0 OVERVIEW

When an employee travels/works from a client location in India or abroad, all business expenses will be taken care of by YASH, as defined in various policies like domestic travel, international travel etc. Of these expenses, a few or even all expenses will be billable to client as defined by client in a business agreement.

These expenses need to be reported to client within defined timelines else the client may reject the claim and it may cause financial loss to the company. Hence, it's business responsibility to assure that all such expenses are reported to Accounts Receivable (AR) team who is part of Finance & Accounts Group.

5.0 RESPONSIBILITY OF BUSINESS/SHARED SERVICE UNIT

It is responsibility of the respective Business/Shared Service Unit to share the following information with AR team as soon as a project starts with a client.

- Categories of expenses & maximum amount that is billable to client
- Invoice frequency from Client i.e. monthly or within stipulated time from return date.

The Business SPOC handling a respective client needs to make certain that all employees whose expense are billable to client are informed about the timelines for submission of report, the categories for which the client will reimburse, and any supporting documents required by the client if any, so that employee can retain all the required bills.

The Business SPOC needs to ensure that employee submit the expense report within defined timeline with due follow up. In case there is any delay in submission of an expense report, and if the client rejects the claim or doesn't allow processing, such claim will not be paid by YASH. If any advance is paid for such travel, will be recovered from an employee's immediate forthcoming payroll.

6.0 PROCESS

Please refer to the following step by step process for submission of expense sheet:

Important points to be noted:

- If the expenses are billable on a periodic basis i.e. monthly/weekly (especially for long term projects; if any), then the employee can submit the expense report on a monthly/frequency as defined by the client along with supporting documents.
- If the expense report is not submitted within the defined timeline, any advance due against the employee will be recoverable from immediate forthcoming payroll.

Terms mentioned in PO will always supersede the terms mentioned in this policy.

When an employee proceeds on an international business travel, the domestic travel part of journey i.e. from base location/place of posting to location of taking international flight in India shall be managed as per the Domestic Travel Policy entitlements.

EXCLUSION - The policy excludes instances of relocation/permanent movement to YASH Technologies Inc. (YTI), YASH Technologies GmbH, YASH Technologies Australia (YTA) or any company under YASH group located in other countries.

3.0 OWNERSHIP/IMPLEMENTATION

The ownership & implementation of this policy lies with Human Resources (HR) Team. It will be effective from May 09, 2024 & will continue to be in force unless superseded by a revised policy. The HR Team reserves the right to amend, abrogate & reinstate the entire policy or any part of it as & when it deems fit.

4.0 OVERVIEW

- 4.1. Employees travelling outside India due to business reason(s) under the scope of this policy are entitled for return travel, accommodation, insurance and allowances to meet out the daily routine expenses.
- 4.2. It is the responsibility of the Business Group Head (BGH)/Shared Service Group Head (SSGH) to ensure that an employee's travel meets the Business need and the reimbursement shall be made only for actual & reasonable business expense(s) as defined in this policy.
- 4.3. Entitlements under this policy are classified on the basis of current grade of the employee, employee type and the region/country to which travel is undertaken. Please refer section 6.0 for entitlements under different heads.

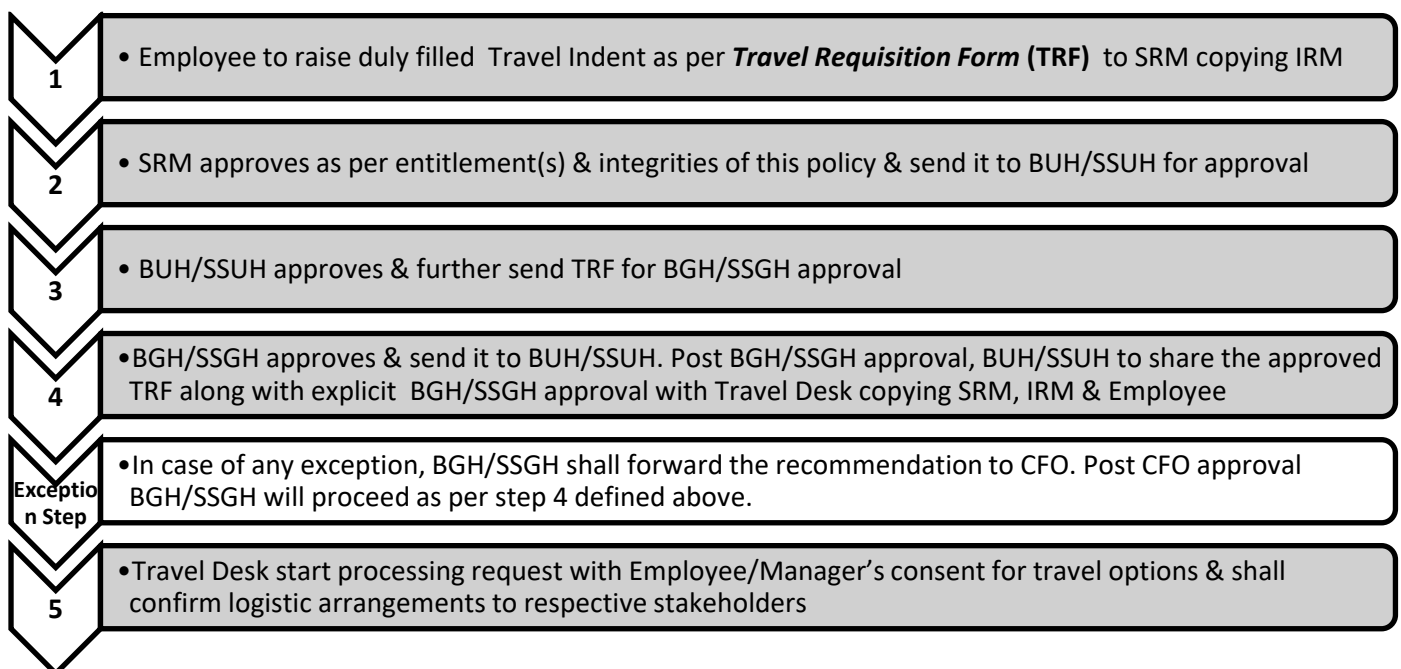

- 4.4. Local conveyance, food & other personal incidentals shall be managed by employee & can be claimed later as per the eligibilities defined in this policy.
- 4.5. Employees are advised to begin return travel to their base location within 24 hours of completion of assignment unless there is a business reason and extended stay is approved by BGH/SSGH.
- 4.6. The policy authorizes Travel Desk (TD) as a single point of contact for processing all requests pertaining to Travel bookings, accommodation arrangements, insurance & advances related to travel when employees are travelling abroad & during their stay (within abroad).

Company reserves the right to disallow /reject reimbursement of expenses related to a travel which is undertaken by employee (s) on their own, without any formal communication to travel desk and being assigned to do so by travel desk.

For smooth & hassle-free coordination, request for travel shall be made @ intl.travel@yash.com along with duly filled TRF (annexure I) as per entitlements of travel as soon as BGH/SSGH approves the travel at least 15 days before the travel date.

5.0 TRAVEL PROCESS

Please refer to the following step by step process for Travel requisition and processing:

Important points to be noted:

- Employee should submit the scan copy of valid passport to travel desk. Scan copy should include 1st page, last page & visa page of the country an employee is travelling to. Kindly note that passport should be valid for the minimum period of six months from the date of departure from abroad.
- The company advises all approval authorities to avoid exceptions to the guidelines of this policy. While approving any travel request, approval authorities should meticulously check employee's eligibility for benefits under this policy before recommending approvals. Exceptions created as a result of improper business planning, scheduling, communication gaps, personal preferences or individual favors etc. are strictly discouraged. However, in a crucial & critical business dependent scenario for an exception on a TRF, the authority to recommend for an approval rests with employee's Business Group Head or Shared Service Group Head (BGH/SSGH). BGH/SSGH can further recommend the need of an approval and forward the same to the CFO. Final authority to take a decision on approval of any exception is reserved with CFO.

- On confirmation of the bookings, Travel Desk shall share the logistic arrangements with Employee, IRM, SRM, BUH/SSUH & respective shared service units of base location. In case an employee is traveling from place of posting which is different from base location/permanent work location, respective shared service units of that location should also be copied in the communication covering logistic arrangement. Such shared service units include HRPP and Facilities & Procurement Administration (Facilities).
- Upon receiving travel request, travel desk may revert on the arrangement at least 2 days before the travel due date if request is initiated as per process.

6.0 ENTITLEMENTS

This section describes the entitlements & integrities with respect to travel arrangements, food & personal incidentals, en-route expenses, Insurance, local conveyance, lodging/accommodation, and travel advances.

6.1 TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS:

Employee will be entitled for the return (to-fro) economy class airfare from the place of posting (current location) or base location/permanent work location to the destination location (place of business assignment) abroad. Travel booking will be made in the available airlines only.

Family emergency – When an employee is on abroad visit, company will take care of the ticket cost in case of a sudden demise of family member (Mother, Father, Spouse and Kids) in India. In case return ticket is pre-booked & available with the employee, employee should get it converted by getting the date change with the help of airlines. For operational needs, employee should produce the death certificate later on.

6.2 FOOD & PERSONAL INCIDENTALS:

Company provides employees with Daily Allowance (per diem) while travelling out of India. This allowance is paid towards meeting necessary expenses incurred for food, personal telephone, laundry, tips & other personal incidentals.

Any leave availed by an employee during this period, unless it is approved Sick Leave (In case Sick leave is exceeding 2 days; recommendation letter from the Doctor with prescription is required) or in case of Leave without pay (LWP) during this period of stay; employees shall not be accountable for daily allowance for those days. An employee can claim daily allowance for days of sick leave by providing aforementioned document, if applicable. No other bills shall be required.

Daily Allowance shall be paid in accordance with the number of days an employee is staying at abroad for business reason as defined below: -

- A) When an employee is travelling by same airline from last departure location in India to destination location for carrying an overseas travel. It shall start from the day of reaching the overseas destination location, if the flight lands after 1300 hrs. (local time of host location) then half day daily allowance else full day daily allowance will be paid for that day.

It shall end on the day of leaving from overseas location to travel back to base location/permanent work location or place of posting as the case may be, in India. If the departure time of the flight is before 1300 hrs. (local time of host location) then half day daily allowance else full day daily allowance will be paid.

- B) When an employee lands the destined country on or before 1300 hrs. (Local time of host location) but final destination location after 1300 hrs. while travelling by different airlines. In this case for computing the daily allowance, time would be considered as per time of reaching the final destination country. Same will apply in case of return travel.

For ex: an employee whose base location is Pune, he/she is travelling from Pune to Mumbai & left India from Mumbai to De-monies (US). Booking is by X airlines from India to Chicago & from Chicago to De-monies by Y airlines & not by X airlines. Here;

- 1) Pune to Mumbai will be considered as per domestic travel policy.
- 2) Last location in India is Mumbai
- 3) Daily allowance would be calculated from time of first landing location in destined country & hence here time of landing at Chicago will be considered.

6.2.1 ELIGIBILITY OF DAILY ALLOWANCE:

Applicable eligibility for per day, based on current grade of an employee, employee type, region & country to which travel is undertaken. For the Region(s) other than mentioned below, please inquire from Travel Desk.

The HR Team reserves the right to amend, abrogate & reinstate the entire policy or any part of it as & when it deems fit.

4.0 OVERVIEW

- 4.1. Employees travelling outside India due to business reason(s) under the scope of this policy are entitled for return travel, accommodation, insurance and allowances to meet out the daily routine expenses.
- 4.2. It is the responsibility of the Business Group Head (BGH)/Shared Service Group Head (SSGH) to ensure that an employee's travel meets the Business need and the reimbursement shall be made only for actual & reasonable business expense(s) as defined in this policy.
- 4.3. Entitlements under this policy are classified on the basis of current grade of the employee, employee type and the region/country to which travel is undertaken. Please refer section 6.0 for entitlements under different heads.

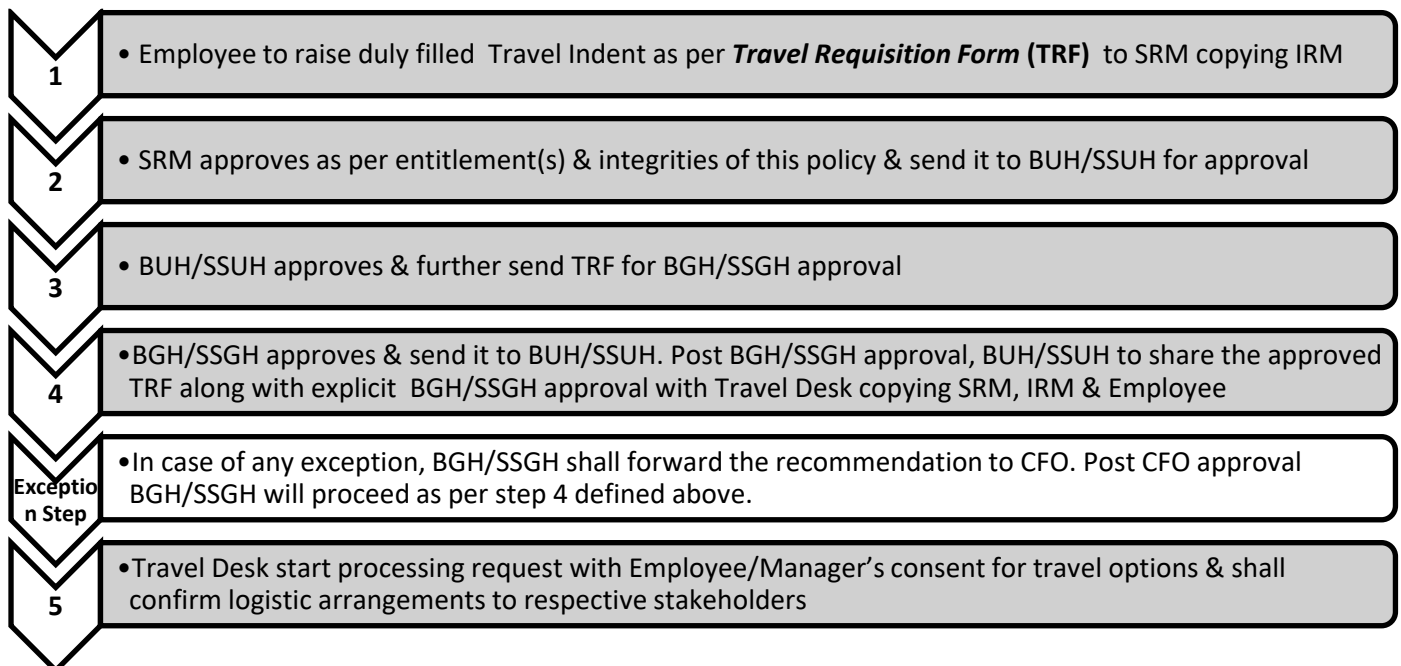

- 4.4. Local conveyance, food & other personal incidentals shall be managed by employee & can be claimed later as per the eligibilities defined in this policy.
- 4.5. Employees are advised to begin return travel to their base location within 24 hours of completion of assignment unless there is a business reason and extended stay is approved by BGH/SSGH.
- 4.6. The policy authorizes Travel Desk (TD) as a single point of contact for processing all requests pertaining to Travel bookings, accommodation arrangements, insurance & advances related to travel when employees are travelling abroad & during their stay (within abroad).

Company reserves the right to disallow /reject reimbursement of expenses related to a travel which is undertaken by employee (s) on their own, without any formal communication to travel desk and being assigned to do so by travel desk.

For smooth & hassle-free coordination, request for travel shall be made @ intl.travel@yash.com along with duly filled TRF (annexure I) as per entitlements of travel as soon as BGH/SSGH approves the travel at least 15 days before the travel date.

5.0 TRAVEL PROCESS

Please refer to the following step by step process for Travel requisition and processing:

Important points to be noted:

- Employee should submit the scan copy of valid passport to travel desk. Scan copy should include 1st page, last page & visa page of the country an employee is travelling to. Kindly note that passport should be valid for the minimum period of six months from the date of departure from abroad.
- The company advises all approval authorities to avoid exceptions to the guidelines of this policy. While approving any travel request, approval authorities should meticulously check employee's eligibility for benefits under this policy before recommending approvals. Exceptions created as a result of improper business planning, scheduling, communication gaps, personal preferences or individual favors etc. are strictly discouraged. However, in a crucial & critical business dependent scenario for an exception on a TRF, the authority to recommend for an approval rests with employee's Business Group Head or Shared Service Group Head (BGH/SSGH). BGH/SSGH can further recommend the need of an approval and forward the same to the CFO. Final authority to take a decision on approval of any exception is reserved with CFO.

- On confirmation of the bookings, Travel Desk shall share the logistic arrangements with Employee, IRM, SRM, BUH/SSUH & respective shared service units of base location. In case an employee is traveling from place of posting which is different from base location/permanent work location, respective shared service units of that location should also be copied in the communication covering logistic arrangement. Such shared service units include HRPP and Facilities & Procurement Administration (Facilities).
- Upon receiving travel request, travel desk may revert on the arrangement at least 2 days before the travel due date if request is initiated as per process.

6.0 ENTITLEMENTS

This section describes the entitlements & integrities with respect to travel arrangements, food & personal incidentals, en-route expenses, Insurance, local conveyance, lodging/accommodation, and travel advances.

6.1 TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS:

Employee will be entitled for the return (to-fro) economy class airfare from the place of posting (current location) or base location/permanent work location to the destination location (place of business assignment) abroad. Travel booking will be made in the available airlines only.

Family emergency – When an employee is on abroad visit, company will take care of the ticket cost in case of a sudden demise of family member (Mother, Father, Spouse and Kids) in India. In case return ticket is pre-booked & available with the employee, employee should get it converted by getting the date change with the help of airlines. For operational needs, employee should produce the death certificate later on.

6.2 FOOD & PERSONAL INCIDENTALS:

Company provides employees with Daily Allowance (per diem) while travelling out of India. This allowance is paid towards meeting necessary expenses incurred for food, personal telephone, laundry, tips & other personal incidentals.

Any leave availed by an employee during this period, unless it is approved Sick Leave (In case Sick leave is exceeding 2 days; recommendation letter from the Doctor with prescription is required) or in case of Leave without pay (LWP) during this period of stay; employees shall not be accountable for daily allowance for those days. An employee can claim daily allowance for days of sick leave by providing aforementioned document, if applicable. No other bills shall be required.

Daily Allowance shall be paid in accordance with the number of days an employee is staying at abroad for business reason as defined below: -

- A) When an employee is travelling by same airline from last departure location in India to destination location for carrying an overseas travel. It shall start from the day of reaching the overseas destination location, if the flight lands after 1300 hrs. (local time of host location) then half day daily allowance else full day daily allowance will be paid for that day.

It shall end on the day of leaving from overseas location to travel back to base location/permanent work location or place of posting as the case may be, in India. If the departure time of the flight is before 1300 hrs. (local time of host location) then half day daily allowance else full day daily allowance will be paid.

- B) When an employee lands the destined country on or before 1300 hrs. (Local time of host location) but final destination location after 1300 hrs. while travelling by different airlines. In this case for computing the daily allowance, time would be considered as per time of reaching the final destination country. Same will apply in case of return travel.

For ex: an employee whose base location is Pune, he/she is travelling from Pune to Mumbai & left India from Mumbai to De-monies (US). Booking is by X airlines from India to Chicago & from Chicago to De-monies by Y airlines & not by X airlines. Here;

- 1) Pune to Mumbai will be considered as per domestic travel policy.
- 2) Last location in India is Mumbai
- 3) Daily allowance would be calculated from time of first landing location in destined country & hence here time of landing at Chicago will be considered.

6.2.1 ELIGIBILITY OF DAILY ALLOWANCE:

Applicable eligibility for per day, based on current grade of an employee, employee type, region & country to which travel is undertaken. For the Region(s) other than mentioned below, please inquire from Travel Desk.

1.0 PURPOSE

This guideline document elaborates the process that needs to be followed while reporting expenses which are to be 'billable to client', to avoid any hassles in claim process as well as avoid financial liability in the hands of the employee.

2.0 SCOPE

Applicable to all employees on rolls of YASH Technologies Pvt. Ltd. (YASH / YTPL).

3.0 OWNERSHIP/IMPLEMENTATION

The ownership & implementation of this guideline lies with Human Resources (HR) Department. It will be effective from March 01, 2019 & will continue to be in force unless superseded by a revised policy. The HR Department reserves the right to amend, abrogate & reinstate the entire policy or any part of it as & when it deems fit.

4.0 OVERVIEW

When an employee travels/works from a client location in India or abroad, all business expenses will be taken care of by YASH, as defined in various policies like domestic travel, international travel etc. Of these expenses, a few or even all expenses will be billable to client as defined by client in a business agreement.

These expenses need to be reported to client within defined timelines else the client may reject the claim and it may cause financial loss to the company. Hence, it's business responsibility to assure that all such expenses are reported to Accounts Receivable (AR) team who is part of Finance & Accounts Group.

5.0 RESPONSIBILITY OF BUSINESS/SHARED SERVICE UNIT

It is responsibility of the respective Business/Shared Service Unit to share the following information with AR team as soon as a project starts with a client.

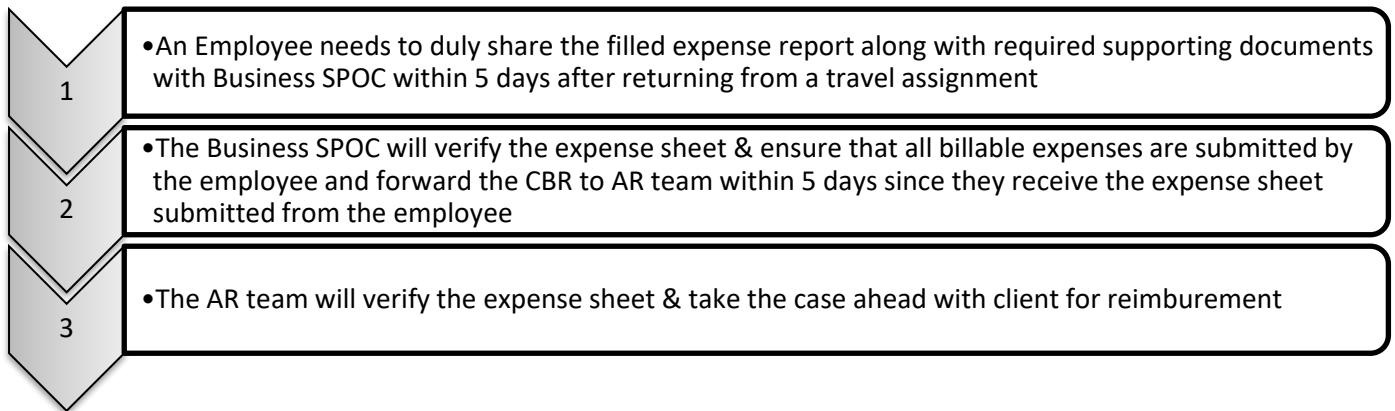

- Project name
- Client Name
- SPOC from Business/Shared Service Unit responsible for such project expense. Here on, will be referred to as Business SPOC
- Categories of expenses & maximum amount that is billable to client
- Invoice frequency from Client i.e. monthly or within stipulated time from return date.
- Supporting documents needed against expense category (soft copy or original or both)

The Business SPOC handling a respective client needs to make certain that all employees whose expense are billable to client are informed about the timelines for submission of report, the categories for which the client will reimburse, and any supporting documents required by the client if any, so that employee can retain all the required bills.

The Business SPOC needs to ensure that employee submit the expense report within defined timeline with due follow up. In case there is any delay in submission of an expense report, and if the client rejects the claim or doesn't allow processing, such claim will not be paid by YASH. If any advance is paid for such travel, will be recovered from an employee's immediate forthcoming payroll.

6.0 PROCESS

Please refer to the following step by step process for submission of expense sheet:

Important points to be noted:

- If the expenses are billable on a periodic basis i.e. monthly/weekly (especially for long term projects; if any), then the employee can submit the expense report on a monthly/frequency as defined by the client along with supporting documents.
- If the expense report is not submitted within the defined timeline, any advance due against the employee will be recoverable from immediate forthcoming payroll.
- Submission of claim for reimbursement needs to be made as per guidelines defined by HR which are covered in respective travel policies. In case any original supporting documents are submitted by an employee to the AR team, a remark stating the same must be mentioned when submitting claims for reimbursement to HR.

Your complete home address including apartment number, street, city, taluk or district, state or province, postal code and country.

Mailing Address:

Is your Mailing Address the same as your Home Address?

Answer 'Yes' or 'No' accordingly.

If you answer 'No', you will be asked to enter your entire Mailing Address here.

That is also the address where the passport will be sent to you if you get a visa.

In case of applicants in India, the delivery address or the HAL (Hold At Location) you specify while taking the appointment is what matters as that is where the passports will be couriered to. In other words, it is fine for this address and the delivery address specified while taking the appointment to be different. Follow the instructions given in the appointment section for further details.

DS-160 Form Guide: Passport Information

Passport/Travel Document Type

Select the appropriate document type:

Regular

Official

Diplomatic

Other

Passport Number:

Your current passport number. If you previously had a passport that expired or was lost, don't write numbers from those passports.

This must be the same passport you will be using when traveling to the U.S. It should be a valid, unexpired passport or other valid, unexpired documentation that is sufficient to establish your identity and nationality.

Passport Book Number:

The Passport Book Number is commonly called the inventory control number. You may or may not have a Passport Book Number on your passport. The location of the Passport Book Number on your passport may vary depending on the country that issued your passport. Please contact your passport issuing authority if you are unable to determine whether or not your passport contains a Passport Book Number.

If it is not applicable to you, click 'DOES NOT APPLY'.

India: For citizens of India, click 'DOES NOT APPLY'.

Mexico: If you have the latest version of the Mexican passport, click 'DOES NOT APPLY'. However, if you have the old-style Mexican passport, enter the passport book number found on the first passport page (not on the photo page) that is different from your passport number.

Country/Authority that Issued Passport:

Country that issued your passport. That is the country you are citizen of.

Sometimes, it gets confusing to some people. If you were staying in a different country (say Japan) when passport was expiring and if the Indian embassy in Japan issued you the passport, the issuing country is still 'India' and NOT 'Japan'.

Where was the Passport Issued?

City: City where passport was issued. Write current official name of the city. e.g., write "Mumbai" instead of "Bombay".

If your passport was issued outside India, such as in USA or even some third country, write that city, state/province and country here.

State/Province: Enter it if it is shown on your passport. Otherwise, leave it blank.

Country: Select the Country from where the passport was issued.

Issuance Date:

Date when passport was issued.

Please note that in the U.S., dates are written as MM/DD/YYYY while in India, they are written as DD/MM/YYYY. Anyway, there would be no confusion as you will have to select the individual portions of the date from the drop down boxes.

Expiration Date:

Date when passport is expiring.

In most cases, your passport must have at least six months of validity beyond the date of your visa application and/or your arrival in the U.S.

Exceptions

Have you ever lost a passport or had one stolen:

Answer 'Yes' or 'No' accordingly.

If yes, provide the following information:

DS-160 Form Guide: Previous U.S. Travel Information

Have you ever been in the U.S.?

If you answer 'Yes', you will need to provide the following information:

Date of Arrival (Format: DD-MMM-YYYY) and Length of Stay for each visit for last five U.S. visits. If you are unsure about when you visited the U.S., please provide a best estimate.

The consulate will look to see whether you left on time. And if you did leave on time, chances of you getting a visa this time is higher, as it shows that you honored the requirement to return home during your last visit. But if you overstayed during your last visit to the U.S., you may have difficulty getting a visa this time. Also, if the consulate finds out that you have been stringing together visas to spend as much time as possible in the U.S., they may doubt your true intention and may deny your visa. The consulate may also do the check to see if you have violated any other visa terms during your past visit(s).

Do you did you ever hold a U.S. driver's license? Yes or No.

If 'Yes', please provide the driver's license number or check 'Do Not Know'.

If you held more than one U.S. driver's license (one a time, of course), click on 'Add Another' and enter the above set of information for each of them.

Have you ever been issued a U.S. Visa?

If you have ever been issued a U.S. visa before (even if it is different type than you are currently applying), write details here accordingly.

Most of the nonimmigrant visas would not create problems for returning to the U.S. unless you had overstayed the visa expiration date and stayed in the U.S. illegally. Exception: if you were in the U.S. on J1 (exchange visitor) visa and haven't yet completed the 2-year "home country" residency requirement. Please consult an attorney if this applies to you.

If you answer 'Yes', you will have to provide the following additional information:

Date Last Visa Was Issued

In Format: DD-MMM-YYYY

Visa Number

Click 'Do Not Know', if appropriate.

This number is the red color number towards lower right side of the visa stamp. For lost or stolen visas, check 'Do Not Know'.

Mexico: If you have a laser visa, the visa number is on the right side of the first row of number. The visa number will start with the initials for the post that issued your visa. e.g., MER for Merida.

Are you applying for the same type of visa?

Are you applying in the same country where the visa above was issued and is this country your principal country of residence?

Have you been ten-printed?

Ten-printed means that you have provided fingerprints for all your fingers, as opposed to having provided only two fingerprints.

Has your U.S. Visa ever been lost or stolen?

If you answer 'Yes', you will have to provide the year in which it was lost or stolen.

Has your U.S. Visa ever been cancelled or revoked?

If you answer 'Yes', please provide an explanation.

Have You Ever Been Refused a U.S. Visa, been refused admission to the United States, or withdrawn your application for admission at the point of entry?

If you have ever been refused a U.S. visa, write the details about it here. You have to answer 'Yes', even if some other type of U.S. visa was denied in the past.

You must tell the truth here (and of course everywhere in this entire process). Consular checks your file and records anyway. They can also check whether you lied earlier or used fraud documents to apply for a visa before, or whether you violated visa terms before. If any of that is true, it would be tough for you to get a visa.

Even if your visa is refused under Section 221(g) because of a missing document, and now you can present the document, it is nonetheless a refusal and, therefore, you must respond "Yes" to this question and provide all the subsequent details requested.

Many people have been denied a tourist visa or student visa in the past. That is not a problem if you apply for an H1 visa or Fiance (K1) visa etc. later. However, if you were refused because of some fraud, this application may be denied as well.

DS-160 Form Guide: U.S. Point of Contact Information

Your U.S. Point of Contact can be any individual in the U.S. who knows you and can verify, if necessary, your identity. If you do not personally know anyone in the U.S., you may enter the name of the store, company, or organization you plan to visit during your trip.

The URL is "https://ceac.state.gov/GENIV/General/complete/complete_uscontact.aspx?mode=USContact". The page displays the U.S. Department of State logo and the text "U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE CONSULAR ELECTRONIC APPLICATION CENTER". The page is in English. The main content area is titled "U.S. Point of Contact Information" and contains a form for "Contact Person or Organization in the United States". The form has fields for "Contact Person" (Surnames, Given Names), "Organization Name", and "Relationship to You". There are "Do Not Know" checkboxes for the "Contact Person" and "Organization Name" fields. A "Help: Contact" section on the right explains that the U.S. Point of Contact can be any individual in the U.S. who knows you and can verify your identity. The left sidebar shows a navigation menu with options like "Getting Started", "Personal", "Address and Phone", "Passport", "Travel", "Travel Companions", "Previous U.S. Travel", "U.S. Contact", "Family", "Security and Background", and "Help: Navigation Buttons".

DS-160 Form Guide: Family Information: Relatives

Answer the questions about your relatives in the U.S. truthfully. Choose YES or NO and indicate that person's status in the U.S. (i.e., U.S. legal permanent resident, U.S. citizen, visiting, studying, working, etc.).

These are all the close relatives that could potentially file an immigrant visa petition for you for your permanent residence in the U.S., if they themselves are either the U.S. citizens or green card holders. If you have any such relatives in the U.S., the consular officer will scrutinize your application to see whether you are trying to immigrate to the U.S. through any of them. But having such relatives doesn't mean that you will be denied a tourist visa. In fact, it is a good reason to go to the U.S. to meet such close relatives. Just be prepared to show the documents and other evidence that you will definitely return after a temporary stay in the U.S.

Do not lie regarding this. Do not hide the presence of family members. Consular officers are quite experts in catching such people who lie and if you are caught, your visa will be immediately rejected and you will be in much bigger trouble. In fact, you may disqualify on future applications for visas or other the U.S. immigration benefits. It becomes grounds for inadmissibility.

If you have immediate relatives who are U.S. citizens but currently staying abroad, such as in India on a PIO or OCI card, you have to still mention them. That is because, technically, they could still file for your immigration petition.

If the relative is in an Adjustment of Status (AOS, probably using EAD), the legal status selected should be NONIMMIGRANT.
